Truce Halts Jerusalem Battle

War End Hinges On Arab Nod

CAIRO — (UP) — Arab-Jewish fighting in the Holy City of Jerusalem ended today, and a new truce for all Palestine awaited only approval of Arab leaders who already had gone halfway to comply with a United Nations ultimatum to end the bloodshed.

Arab supreme headquarters in Amman issued a cease-fire to its forces in Jerusalem as of 2 a. m. today (7 p. m. Friday EST) and Tel Aviv, capital of Israel reported that the truce began as Jewish forces which had penetrated the Arab-held old walled city withdrew at the deadline.

Thus King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan beat the deadline of 8:39 p. m. (EST) set by the U.N. security council for its order, backed by the threat of economic sanctions and even military force, that Jerusalem fighting end.

The council called upon the Jews and Arabs to lay down their arms throughout Palestine by Sunday night. The government of Israel announced that it was prepared to comply if the Arabs did.

The supreme war council of the Arabs at a village outside Beirut, Lebanon, presumably was weighing the U.N. ultimatum for all Palestine after giving the nod on the section dealing with Jerusalem.

DECISION EXPECTED

Reports on the meeting of the Arab league political committee said it was expected to last a couple of days. Thus it appeared that a decision might be forthcoming today on the truce which would stop the fighting a little over a week after the expiration of Count Folke Bernadotte's original 28-day armistice.

The government of Israel notified the U.N. yesterday that it had decided tentatively to agree to the resumption of the Palestine truce.

The action will be taken provided the government is notified that all Arab countries had ordered their armies to stop fighting at a specific hour.

In what many quarters believed would be the last hours of the fighting, Israeli forces captured Nazareth, where Christ spent his childhood.

Reds Issue Stiff Orders

VIENNA —(AP)— A high Austrian government source says Russian military authorities have made increasingly stiff demands upon local civil authorities in their zone of occupation for detailed reports on almost every phase of public life in certain sections.

Although Russian troops had been removed from some of the areas nearly two years ago, Russian officers recently approached local Austrian officials with verbal orders to list all former Nazis and all foreigners residing in the area, to report on all political parties and their activities and to report three days in advance on all public meetings to be held—even traditional religious processions.

The Russian officers also asked for complete local police rosters and demanded that any changes in personnel be reported immediately. They wanted lists of all hotels, including details as to their capacity and the names of their owners. Post offices were told to submit lists of newspapers coming into the area and the number of each distributed.

All lectures and speeches by public officials had to be reported verbatim and they also demanded that each political party secretary give detailed account of the activities of his party on tenth and twentieth of each month. And local officials were told to turn over lists of all trucks and other vehicles, all garages and names of their owners.

Tomcat Eats Singers For His Supper

NEW YORK —(UP)— Bozo, a large, grey, angora tom, looked today like the cat that ate the canary. He did. He ate four canaries while a fascinated Brooklyn sidewalk crowd looked on outside the Long Island Bird store.

The first passerby at 8 o'clock last night saw the tomcat poised on a ledge beside a cage of 10 canaries. The cat inserted a paw. A canary fluttered by. Then there were nine.

For three hours the patient Bozo gathered in birds while the equally patient crowd outside grew larger. After the cat had downed his fourth feathered tidbit, the store owner arrived. Then the feast became a fast—fast.

Soviets Hack At Berlin's Air Corridor

Siege Becoming War of Nerves

BERLIN —(UP)— The Russians served notice of increased Soviet air activity along the transport-clogged corridors west of blockaded Berlin today, including instrument training flights through cloudy skies.

Stepping up their war of nerves or actual threat to the Anglo-American air shuttle, the Soviets advised the Berlin air safety center they would have planes flying from nine fields in the vicinity of the corridors.

They said that among their planes would be transports "on instrument training flights," Yak fighters, and biplane observation planes also flying on instruments.

Bad weather, with frequent rain squalls, hampered the air shuttle. This was the 21st straight day in which some rain has fallen here.

British Lancaster and Lincoln bombers were reported ready to join the Anglo-American fleet flying food and other supplies into Berlin.

German sources reported that Gen. Georgi Alexandrov, Soviet air commander here, had conferred with his staff on ways and means of eliminating two of the three air corridors to the west.

Western officials, giving microscopic attention to all accounts of the ever-tightening Soviet blockade of Berlin, were studying a report that the Soviet army planned to conduct "calibration" firing with powerful anti-aircraft guns in two of the three air corridors.

Vacationers Promised Ideal Sunday

The 10.000 or more Mansfielders who started annual vacations yesterday and today were promised ideal weather conditions at least for Ohio over the week-end.

There will be a few scattered showers, the weatherman says, but the overall weather picture for vacationists and week-end travelers is general optimistic. Temperatures in Ohio today ranged from 81 to 89 degrees. The forecast is slightly cooler for Sunday.

At noon today Mansfielders found a brisk breeze providing enjoyable relief from an 81-degree temperature.

It will be ideal weather for that out-of-door picnic, although picnickers may have to scurry for cover during a brief shower or two.

Labor Day Parade Plans Canceled

The club had planned to sponsor the celebrations with a parade and picnic but decided to call it off because of lack of interest in organizing a program committee.

U. S. Bombers Reach England

SCAMPTON AIR BASE, Eng —(UP)—American bombers came back to their wartime bases in England today. A fleet of superfortresses landed here for three to five weeks of exercises before going on to Germany

Inbound from the United States, the trail blazers of the first U. S. operational bombers stationed in the United Kingdom since Gen. Carl A. Spaatz's massive armada was dismantled after the war landed at 6.33 a. m. (12:33 a. m. EST).

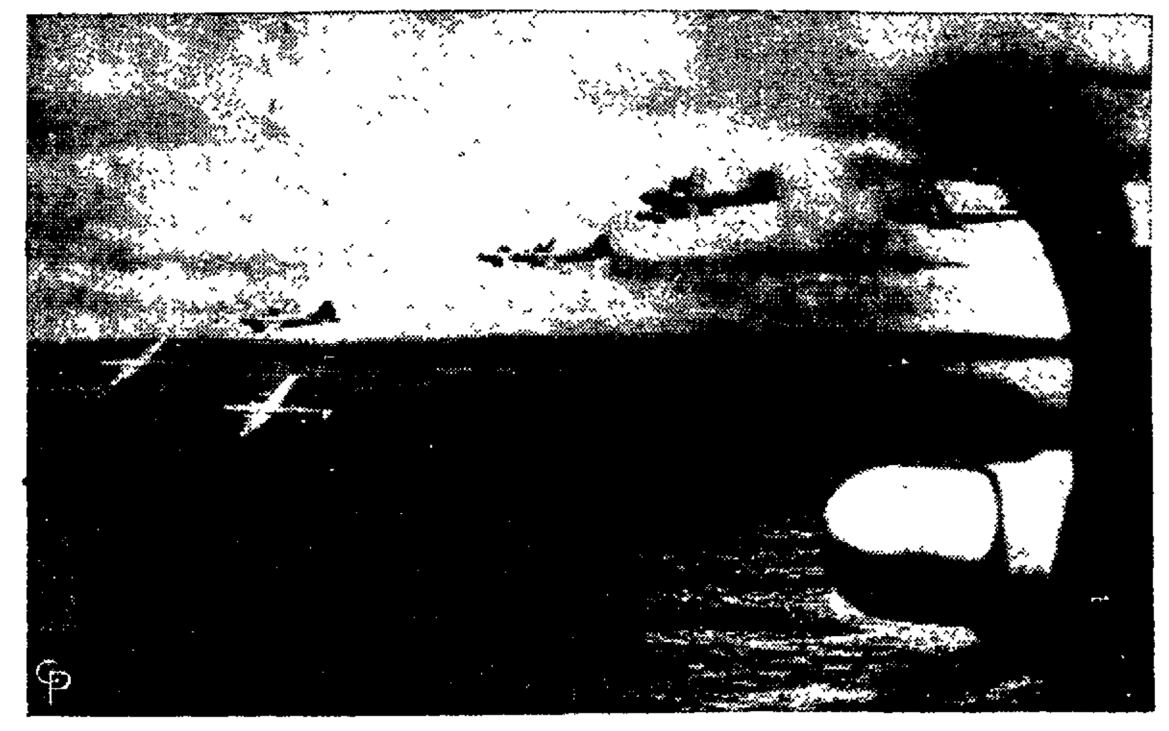
In their wake roared the remainder of two complete bomb groups of 60 fully manned superfortresses, bringing an aerial army of about 1,500 men to England

The first to land at nearby Marham were four bombers of the 307th group from MacDill Field, Tampa, Fla The other 26 were expected tomorrow. The lead B-29 of the 28 group from Rapid City, S. D., circled Scampton once and come in for a perfect landing at 8:26 a. m. (2:26 a. m. EST) Most of the remainder were due during the day.

The giant B-29's came down at the Scampton, Marham and Waddington air bases, clustered around the town of Lincoln in east-central England some 115 miles north of London and just inland from the North sea.

A spokesman for the British air ministry, which through the Royal Air Force was host to the Americans, said the superforts would be here three to five weeks, and then proceed to Germany.

Thirty superforts already were on duty with the U. S. Air Force in Germany.



BOMBERS ARRIVE IN ENGLAND—Believed to be the American answer to Soviet Russia's "starvation siege" of Berlin, first four of 60 giant B-29's arrived today in England on a "training" mission.

South Rips Party Unity

Dixie Rebels Open Meeting

BIRMINGHAM, Ala —(AP)—Defiant Southern Democrats met today for the avowed purpose of taking the Solid South out of the regular party columns for the first time in 70 years

They planned to challenge in 15 states the Truman-Barkley ticket nominated earlier this week at Philadelphia. The issue was the civil rights plank adopted at Philadelphia over the bitter protests of deep south delegates, plus defeat of a states' rights proposal.

The frank purpose of this meeting is the defeat of Mr. Truman. An anti-Truman slate of electors will seek a place on the ballot in the president's home state of Missouri.

Other states in which the challenge will be made include the deep South which has not turned its back on any Democratic presidential candidate since 1876. These are Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, Arkansas, Georgia and Louisiana.

Still others, normally Democratic with room to spare, in which campaigns are planned are Texas, Senator Alben Barkley's home state of Kentucky, Tennessee, Florida, North Carolina, Virginia, Oklahoma and Maryland.

The meeting was called by Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi, who led his delegation out of the Democratic convention Wednesday night. Wright and his delegates arrived late last night, coming here direct from the national convention.

Curnutt walked calmly to the chair. At 8:05 the first charge of electricity entered his body. Three minutes later he was pronounced dead.

Civil Service Test Delayed

City Policewoman Hired For 60 Days

Miss Ruth E. Craig, 26, of 63½ South Diamond street, talked with three city officials for 90 minutes today and won herself a 60-day temporary appointment as Mansfield's first policewoman.

Present at the interview in Mayor Roy W. Vaughn's office were the mayor, Chief of Police Jesse J. Schwab and City Service and Safety Director Earl Garrison.

Miss Craig first applied for the position Thursday when she visited Chief Schwab. He suggested she talk with Mrs. Marie Menchan of the Mansfield Humane society and Mrs. Jane Williams of the Community Chest.

The chief explained that he wanted Miss Craig to have a clear picture of the work she would be entering.

"After talking with Mrs Menchan, I was more enthused about the job than I had been before," she said.

"I have always been interested in welfare work and this is the first opportunity I have had to enter the field," she said.

She was formerly employed with a New York cosmetics firm and served as deputy clerk of courts at the court house.

Brutal Child Slayer Held

CINCINNATI —(UP)—A murder warrant was filed today against a 33-year-old man who yesterday threw eight-year-old Patricia Jackson to her death from a viaduct and then blamed "radioactivity" for his act.

The warrant against the man, who gave the name of Harry Robertson, Richmond, Va., was filed by Jack Jackson, Patricia's father.

Robertson, captured by passers-by after he had tossed Patricia to her death 125 feet below, muttered incoherently when taken to police headquarters.

Police Hunt Ex-Convict

Robert Murl Daniels, a former inmate of the Ohio State reformatory in Mansfield, was sought by Columbus police today for questioning in the slaying of Earl C. Ambrose, Columbus tavern owner.

Daniels, who is listed in reformatory records as Murl Daniels, was received at the reformatory on Jan. 28, 1944, to serve one to 25 years for robbery in Pike county. Daniels was paroled Sept. 25, 1947, after serving less than four years.

The 24-year-old suspect had been living at 211 West Norwich avenue in Columbus.

Daniels is one of two suspects being sought in the Columbus murder case The other one was not identified

Ambrose was killed and a woman seriously wounded July 10 during a robbery of the Ambrose Tavern in which the killer-bandits escaped with $800.

Shortly before, another tavern was robbed of $8,000 in cash and checks. Police believe the same men did both jobs.

Daniels and his 30-year-old partner are also being sought in the fatal shooting of a tourist camp operator near Flat Rock, Mich., last Saturday. The man died Monday.

Police said the suspects might be armed. They described them as "dangerous."

New Price Control Bid Looms

Truman to Ask Drastic Powers

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman will ask Congress when it convenes in special session for drastic powers to halt rising prices.

The chief executive is expected to junk the rather moderate ten-point price control program, which the Republican majority in Congress refused to pass last December, and substitute in its stead far more stringent legislation.

The main theme of the President's message to the special session, it is understood, will be the alarming continued zooming of prices of such basic things as food, clothing and housing.

Mr. Truman will tell Congress in no uncertain terms that he believes the country is headed for a tragic economic collapse unless someone in top authority is able to grab hold of the reins and pull them tight.

Persons around the President point out that the control measures the President asked the Congress for seven months ago—mild standby controls—were adapted to deal with a situation where prices were not yet as high as they have become during the last half year.

SITUATION CHANGED

They say that the situation has changed considerably, that prices have now reached the all-time peak in virtually every purchasable commodity, especially of food, and that the President's legislative request for authority to handle the price situation must now deal with the price problem as it is today.

The President is expected to recommend not only price ceilings on the basic commodities required by the individual for mere living but for powers to roll back some of the more important areas of today's extremely high prices.

Coupled with this, the President will ask for authority to ration commodities that are basic in the nation's industrial economy, such as steel, and which now still remains in extremely high demand and short supply.

The President also is expected to ask for authority to allocate basic materials.

The President's main worry now on high prices, however, is the fact that the prices of food have increased so alarmingly and so steadily over the past six months, despite the fact that now government forecasts are for the greatest crops in the nation's history.

Peace Draft Head Named

WASHINGTON— (INS) —Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey war-time chief of selective service, was named today by President Truman to head the peacetime draft organization.

In making the announcement, the White House said that the President will issue a proclamation and executive order early next week putting the machinery of the new selective service law into full functioning.

This executive action will set the date for registration of the youths aged 18 through 26.

Hershey has been director of the office of selective service records since his wartime post was curtailed at the end of the second World war.

The appointment is effective until 30 days after the new Congress meets, when the Senate will consider a formal nomination.

Posse on Trail Of Killer Dogs

FREMONT —(UP)— A county-wide search was pressed here today by farmers and law officers for a pack of killer dogs, held responsible for deaths of nearly $750 worth of sheep since July 1.

Several farmers in the area immediately west of here reported seeing the band of dogs but have been unable to destroy any them.

Legality Of FCC Ruling Hit

Two members of the Federal Communications commission are on record today as declaring flatly that denial of radio broadcasting station licenses to the Mansfield News-Journal and the Lorain Journal is unsupported by law and unsupported by evidence brought out at hearings.

The FCC late Thursday in a 3-2 decision stuck to an earlier tentative decision to deny radio permits to the two newspapers on the basis of "findings" which the commission made after hearings in Mansfield and Lorain.

There are seven members on the communications board. Three voted to deny the newspapers' applications, two voted against the denial, and two did not participate in the decision.

Commissioners Robert F Jones and George E Sterling, taking issue with the three-man "majority" decision to deny the permits, declared:

"Upon the entire record in the case, we find that no specific violation of law or regulations upon the part of those two newspapers have occurred and we believe their general disqualifications by the majority are unsupported by this record and unsupported by law."

URGE LICENSING

"Since we consider the Mansfield Journal company is qualified to be a broadcast licensee, we believe that it should be granted the class B FM channel which it seeks and which is available for assignment at Mansfield," the dissenting opinion of Commissioners Jones and Sterling states.

A copy of the FCC decision, together with the dissenting opinion was received in Mansfield today. The general denial order was reported from Washington yesterday by Associated Press and other news services.

Jones and Sterling also assert that the commissioners who turned down the newspapers' request accepted as true testimony given by opponents of the newspaper, but put no reliance in testimony of witnesses who favored the newspapers at the hearings.

The dissenting board members said:

"The majority (of the FCC) apparently accepted as true testimony given by a number of witnesses who appeared in opposition to the newspaper applicants, and refused to give any credence to the testimony of witnesses who contradicted that testimony. We (Jones and Sterling) cannot conclude that such opposition testimony should be accepted as conclusive, although it was so accepted by the majority and in the

Italy Fears Civil Revolt

ROME —(INS)— Troops and police guarding against possible civil war in Italy were held on the alert today while doctors fought to save the life of Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti

As penicillin was administered to the gravely wounded Togliatti, who now has been placed in an oxygen tent, anxiety developed that the condition of Togliatti might set off renewed disturbances and possible civil strife.

Togliatti was placed in an oxygen tent late last night after physicians injected large doses of penicillin to arrest the spread of bronchial pneumonia.

The penicillin came from the United States, the target of Togliatti's most bitter political attacks.

A late hospital report said that the communist leader spent a restful night, and felt "more relieved." His temperature had receded to 100 degrees. His bronchial pneumonia was said to be following "a normal course"

State Promises Action

Special Agents Assigned Here

An intensive investigation of the liquor-gambling situation in the Mansfield area—covering Crawford, Richland and Ashland counties—is under way by the state liquor enforcement division, the News-Journal was informed today.

Don T. Geyer, state liquor enforcement chief, said in a telephone interview that he was taking personal charge of the investigation. Yesterday, Geyer and another agent combed the Crawford county area, city-by-city and cafe-by-cafe.

He disclosed that he would also personally lead a stepped-up investigation in Mansfield next week.

Published reports have related instances of several permit holders who asserted they had been approached by punchboard and "cookie jar" distributors who promised immunity from state interference if specific types of gambling devices were used in their places.

Geyer promised action if his investigation reveals a gambling-liquor tie-up exists. "We will enforce the law wherever we find it being flouted," he said.

SHAKEDOWN CHARGES

The liquor enforcement chief said, however, that he was primarily interested in charges that state liquor agents were allegedly "shaking down" dealers for weekly cuts of $25 and $50 apiece.

In an attempt to debunk the charge that state liquor agents were shaking down Crawford county dealers, Geyer said that he has "positive" information that other men have been "posing as liquor agents."

However, Geyer emphatically asserted that if his survey substantiates charges that state agents are coercing dealers, the liquor control office will begin removal proceedings against the guilty agents at once.

'IMMEDIATE STEPS'

In the event the gambling-liquor tie-up is uncovered, he said, "the division will take immediate steps to curb the practice of liquor permit holders, in cafes and private clubs, from operating gambling devices on the premises."

Geyer lamented the dearth of agents in the area. He said the Sandusky area, which covers nine counties, has only seven agents. Three special agents have been added for the new investigation, he sadded.

"We are not a gestapo organization," he remarked, "and we don't employ threatening tactics"

But, he warned, "slot machine operations in drinking spots are unlawful and we won't tolerate that."

DECLINES COMMENT

George Cermak, agent in charge of the Sandusky liquor enforcement area, refused to comment when asked whether his office had a report that private liquor clubs in the Mansfield area also housed slot machines.

Geyer, admittedly favored the enforcement of liquor violations by county authorities. He said, however, that the charges indicated the activities were so widespread and so grave that it was a matter the state control division felt it must investigate.

Geyer said he was compiling a report on his personal investigation through Crawford county for Dale Dunifon, state liquor director.

Meanwhile, the Ohio board of liquor control was taking action in various cities throughout the state on the same gambling-liquor situation. In Akron, the board heard 15 cases in three days and revoked three permits.

Polio Brain Bulb Attack Brings Death

Controls Govern Heart, Breathing

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

NEW YORK —(AP)— Discovery of the location of two pea-size brain controls whose damage causes most of the deaths in infantile paralysis was announced to the first international polio conference Friday.

The controls are of breathing and of heart pumping. Ths discovery makes possible monkey experiments to cut the deaths.

The discovery was made at the University of Minnesota medical school, and reported by Dr. A. B. Baker. The findings cover the only highly fatal kind of infantile paralysis, namely bulbar polio.

This is named for its location in the "bulb" of the brain. This bulb is the size and shape of the end of a thumb, down to the first joint. It is at the base of the skull, and links the brain and the spinal cord.

Doctors have been sure that this bulb contained the breath and heart controls, but could not locate them, because even pressing on a living bulb may cause sudden death.

Minnesota's polio epidemic in 1946 gave science the first material to locate the controls. The material was the bulbs of nearly 100 humans who had died of bulbar polio. The bulbs were cut into thousands of slices and studied under microscopes.

The controls were found close together, two for heart, two for breath, one of each on either side of the bulb. None was larger than a small pea.

FOUNDATION PAYS COST

This study took two years and cost about $200,000, which was paid by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The foundation has appropriated money for experiments about to start on monkeys. It now is possible for the first time to give monkeys the equivalent of bulbar polio merely with a surgical instrument thrust into the little peas.

The animals will be studied for means of keeping them alive with paralyzed heart or breath centers If monkeys' lives can be prolonged for no more than even a few days, the high death rate of humans probably can be cut. Because in bulbar polio, humans live if they succeed in passing the crisis, which comes within the first few days.

In another area of the bulb is a control for swallowing. This causes death by a form of drowning, due to liquids clogging the paralyzed throat. In the epidemic two years ago the Minnesota group discovered remedies that cut these bulb drowning deaths virtually to nothing.

There are two kinds of polio personalities, the result of this disease in childhood, said Dr. Edward A. Stecker of Philadelphia.

One, he said, is golden, meaning a superior mind and emotions rising above obstacles and making a personality of driving power.

The other is inferior, a querulous personality, that gets other people to do the work.

Either kind, he said, may develop from childhood polio, depending mainly on the wisdom of parents in coping with the crippled child's problem.

Child Can Overcome Fear of Storms With Parents' Help

You don't want your child to suffer from fears during an electric storm. Usually such fears are most frequent among young children. Yet they practically always can be prevented. In the older child, however, who has seen evidence of destruction by lightning or has heard stories even of persons being killed thereby, these fears may not easily be avoided or easily dispersed. Indeed, some adults have violent fears of thunderstorms all their lives, some of which fears were learned from others in childhood.

Any fearing person who can sense some actual positive dangers during a thunder storm will do well to consider how very rarely any life is lost from lightning, especially in a city or anywhere, inside a house. He should know that standing under or near a tree during an electric storm might not be safe, and should therefore avoid such.

This person should also know that leaning against a tall chimney or touching a water faucet when lightning is dancing from the clouds has some hazards, or that a draught of air makes a favorite electric pathway. If he is haunted excessively with fears during such a storm it might give him a feeling of security to wear rubbers. Observing a few such measures of caution tends also to draw his attention away from fear of danger, though he should be careful that his precautions are not too obvious to the child lest they should induce fear in him.

Success of the adult and older child at avoiding or overcoming fear during a thunder storm is the first essential for preventing or correcting fears in the young child. It's the harmless thunder and not the lightning flash which may frighten the young child. An infant all alone may be startled by a crash of thunder. After one such fright he may be more disposed to more such fears

It's well to be near the little child during an electric storm in order to comfort him in case he should be frightened.

It will help the tot three or four frightened out of sleep if you will have him look out the window with you and watch for as many trees, cars and the like he can see at each flash; also for him or an older person to watch distant lightning flashes and listen to the distant thunder of a subsiding storm.

Be Serene.

If you're with a tot during a storm, be entirely serene If he seems uneasy read to him his favorite story or make fascinating things with him, holding his attention away from the storm.

We never observed pronounced fears for any prolonged period in our own children or grandchildren during an electric storm. Our daughter enjoyed electric storms until about the age of fourteen, when she saw the flagpole shattered by lightning near her classroom. Her brothers always did. Some years later she said that she felt a bit uncomfortable during a thunderstorm since the day that flagpole was struck. Her little daughter, when about three years old, clutched my arm while I was reading to her, following a violent thunder clap, and for a few times thereafter showed slight uneasiness at heavy thundering. But on the following summer she taught her younger brother to shout with glee every time there was loud thunder.

Ugly Crook's Face to Get New Look

Burglar Given Reform Chance

The "ugly burglar," 31-year-old John Wilbert Glaefke of Cleveland, former OSR inmate, today had a chance to go straight.

Mansfield reformatory officials confirmed news reports that Glaefke took a dim view of society because of his extreme ugliness. His appearance will now be replaced by a "new look" in the effort to get him on the right path.

Cleveland Municipal Judge Frank Merrick placed him on five-year probation Friday for burglarizing a confectionery last April and agreed to a proposal of doctors to use plastic surgery in an attempt to correct his twisted personality.

Glaefke, always friendless and jobless, told the court he believed he was rejected by society because of his ugly face.

His self-consciousness was heightened, he said, because since childhood he realized he was the only unattractive member of his family. To him everybody else was good looking. He felt alone.

Dr. Royal Grossman, Cleveland court psychiatrist, said "his behavior is an act of revenge against society. Since adolescence he has been in a mental state of rebellion."

Glaefke's thefts have been negligible. In 1940, he stole a typewriter from a school and was sentenced to the reformatory 1 to 15 years. Later he escaped from Grafton honor farm on March 3, 1940, and was arrested in Missouri for breaking a peanut machine and stealing a few pennies.

He was returned to the reformatory May 29, 1942, and two exta years for escaping. He was paroled Nov. 16, 1944, and was given his final release Dec. 1, 1945. He was drafted into the Army, but was discharged when he attempted suicide.

Glaefke will enter St. John's hospital in a few days.

The surgeon will reshape Glaefke's nose, raise the bridge and narrow the nostrils. A dentist will emove his "peg-shaped" teeth and replace them with a denture. Then Glaefke will be released to try living with society again.

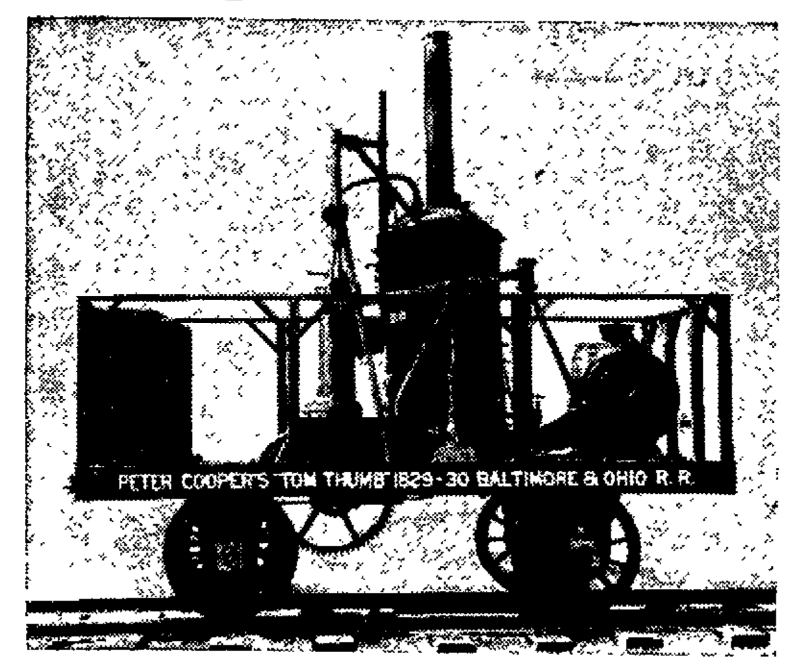
Chicago's Railroad Fair Opens July 20



TOM THUMB—It was the first of the passenger steam engines.

By LUCIA PARRIGO
(Central Press Correspondent.)

CHICAGO — In 1848, the Pioneer, a 10-ton wood-burning engine, arrived in the prairie town of Chicago aboard a sailing brig. She was only a third-hander brought from the east by the Galent and Chicago Union railway (later a part of the Chicago and North Western), but she caused a mighty flurry in the muddy, crude town.

Some of the top-hatted civic dignitaries took a ride behind her seated in a freight car as she chugged five miles west and back.

The prairie was pop-eyed at the sight, but the Pioneer steamed and swayed on its way, cocky crusader of a territory destined to become the world's greatest railroad center.

This summer Chicago will commemorate the run of the Pioneer and the westward course of the iron horse with the Railroad Fair, to be held on a 50-acre site along Lake Michigan, sponsored by the railroads of the nation.

Set to open July 20, to run until Labor Day, the $2,000,000 Railroad Fair will show Americans what the rails did to aid the settlement of the country, to develop its economy and win its wars.

Guests of honor will be historical and long out-moded engines anl museum pieces including the Pioneer; the full nine-horsepowed Stourbridge Lion, an eight-ton English import which on Aug. 8, 1829, became the first practical steam locomotive to operate on a permanent railroad track in America. It made history in a trial run over the Carbondale and Honesdale railroad in Pennsylvania.

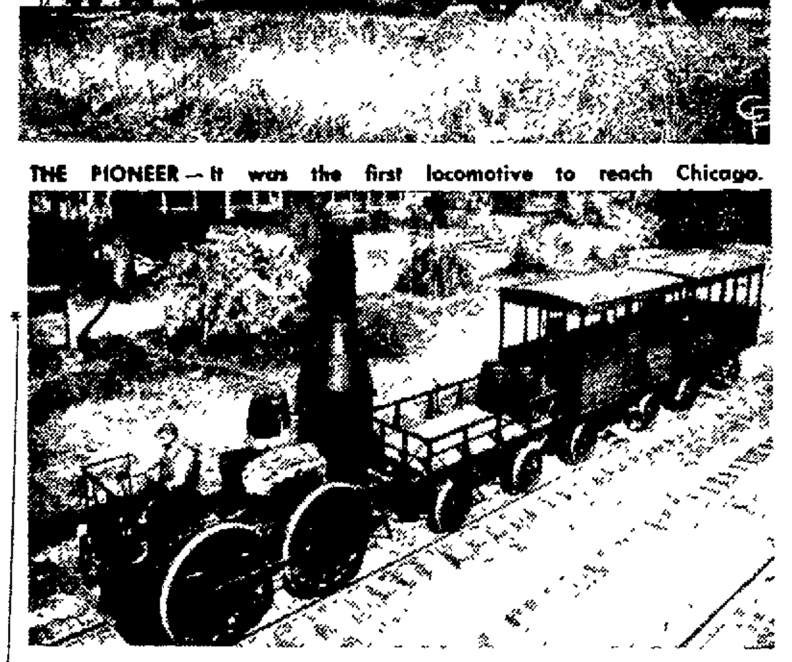
'FRIEND' ON HAND

Also on hand will be another ancient king of the rails. The Best Friend of Charleston, first American-built locomotive, completed in 1829 for the South Carolina railroad to make an unprecedented speed of 30 miles per hour when traveling along and 21 miles per hour pulling four cars with 50 passengers!

There will be a special place of honor for the famous Tom Thumb engine developed for the B. & O. by Peter Cooper, who set up a small boiler and a diminutive coal-burning steam engine on a flat car.

Cooper ran it over 13 miles of track between Baltimore and Ellicott's Mills, Mo., in 1830, at 14 miles per hour while pushing a small car carrying 24 passengers. Those passengers were the first ever carried over rails by steam power.

THE PIONEER—It was the first locomotive to reach Chicago.



THE BEST FRIEND—It was the first American-built locomotive.

The Tom Thumb is the same locomotive which accepted a challenge to race a horse-drawn railroad car, but lost out to the four-footed rival when mechanical difficulties stymied it. Appropriately enough, the horse car also will be on display.

These all will operate under their own power, in "Wheels A-Rolling," a pageant which will be given several times daily in a special outdoor "theater" to set 5,000.

The pageant will trace the exciting story of transport in the middle west from the crude travois of the Indians and the small bateaux of the early French explorers, through the days of circuit riders, the stage coach and the freighting wagon.

High spot of the show will be the famous scene at Promontory Point, Utah, when two engines met and the spanning of a continent by rail was celebrated. As a climax, new Diesel-powered luxury trains will roll onto the great stage to point the way dramatically to rail progress of the future.

After the show, rail enthusiasts can see an Indian village constructed by the Santa Fe and populated by Navajos, Hopis, Jemez, Zunis, Lagunas and Apaches brought to Chicago by that company. They will also see New Orleans with its French Quarter, recreated by the Illinois Central, and ride for four miles into the "Rocky Mountains" on a standard narrow gauge railroad typical of that operating in the mountains of Colorado 75 years ago.

Provided by the Burlington Lines, the narrow gauge will employ a locomotive and six cars actually used in the west years ago and will run between "Deadwood S. D.,' and "Central City, Colo." (now a ghost town), two historic pioneer settlements, originally served by narrow gauge.

Take this trip and you will experience the kind of travel the gold miners and bonanza kings had in the '70's when Colorado had more than 400 miles of the narrow gauge for economical haulage of ore from the mines.

Horse-drawn equipment, so in vogue at that time, could not have managed the narrow mountain passes and steep inclines which wound skyward to passes as high as 11,500 feet going right over the center of the Continental Divide.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Drive carefully tomorrow—and make sure that brakes, lights and tires are in good condition.

Writing a political party platform is quite difficult—like trying to frame a statement on liquor that would satisfy both the distillers and the W. C. T. U.

There's so much talk about television sets in "saloons" that it may be wondered if that word is creeping back into acceptance, after having been subjected to so many variations.

'Do-It-Yourself' Movement Gains

THE "equality of opportunity", which is one of the principles upon which this country was founded—and has advanced—is being threatened by development of internal conditions which give appearance of preferential treatment to some organized minority groups while working to the detriment of an at least temporarily helpless majority.

The steady climb of commodity prices during this post-war inflationary spree finds the income of some workers keyed to increasing living costs but leaves many others engaged in a constant struggle to make ends meet—while those in another large group are totally unable to live comfortably on fixed income from pensions, annuities, dividends, or other sources.

It has been promoted as a minimum of "American standards of living" that an ambitious, energetic and reasonably capable person should be able, in the course of years devoted to some necessary work, to acquire a modest home of his own, to buy a car suited to his needs, to support a family, educate several children, meet the costs of medical and dental care, and retain and invest a part of earnings to provide security in later years.

Now all that is changed by present unbridled inflation. Home ownership, without burdensome indebtedness, is beyond the reach of persons with relatively small income, as is also the purchase of a new car at prices to which they have jumped under the impetus of higher production costs.

Even for many of those who own homes, customary upkeep costs have become practically prohibitive, with the result that much residential property is being permitted to take on a run-down appearance because owners are unable to meet the expense of needed painting and repairs.

One result has been that a considerable number of people have hit upon the idea of doing for themselves some of the things they have been accustomed to "hire done." One interesting phase of this "do-it-yourself" movement is seen in some cities where groups, often made up of veterans, follow the old American tradition of community house building by pooling their labor and purchases and employing high-priced professional help only when absolutely required. From one city comes a report of savings of $2,000 and upward, in this co-operative method of building a home.

Preference, of course, would be to hire workers in particular trades to do the jobs in which they are regularly employed, but when such services are priced out of reach the natural reaction is to "do-it-yourself", or leave it undone. That is the point that has been reached by many . . . and is likely to soon be reached by more if the inflationary bubble delays bursting.

Save Money Now To Buy Coal Soon

WHATEVER may be meant by the biblical injunction, "Take no thought for the morrow," it obviously should not be literally applied to such a mundane matter as looking ahead to next winter's fuel supply—even on a hot July day.

Warning came yesterday that coal—in addition to being high in price—is quite likely to be short in supply when the time of actual need arrives. The suggestion is therefore offered that orders be placed now.

With an insufficient supply of natural gas to meet the home heating requirements of all who desire it; with fuel oil in short supply and high priced, and with coal at an inflationary price level, the coming winter may be anticipated with more than ordinary dread by those who are already harried by the high cost of meat and other foods—but the question of "what's to be done about it" has not yet been answered.

Ice Cream Approved In Vitamin Test

SOME serious-minded women students and professors at Iowa State college have made a pleasant discovery in their laboratories. They announce that there is more useful vitamin B-2 content in ice cream than in green peas, almost as much as in pure riboflavin.

Through tests and carefully prescribed diets that women students followed as guinea pigs, the particular vitamin was discovered to have been absorbed more readily from ice cream than from other tested food sources.

While the chemists try to learn why, it's nice to know that during these hot days a person is really doing his body a service when he eats a big dish of ice cream. It seems, happily, that the day is past when almost everything that was good to eat was considered bad for the body, and generally unpleasant things were considered good for the system.

As Claude Callan points out: "There is at least one advantage about a visit from a poor relative. You don't have to get out a clean tablecloth."

Now there's a new version of that old "keeping up" idea, as some folks find themselves "falling behind with the Joneses."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

War Bases In England

By DREW PEARSON

BECAUSE of the tense Berlin situation, what amounts to revival of wartime American air bases will be set up in England almost immediately.

Late this week two groups of B-29s of about 30 planes each, are flying the Atlantic to re-establish active American bases in England. They will be under the command of General Curtis Le May, who also commanded the wartime operation of B-29s from the mid-Pacific against Japan. Le May is considered the most experienced combat commander in the Air Forces.

Air Force officials, while withholding comment, admitted that the two groups of B-29s operating from England will take no part in ferrying food to Berlin. Their function will be to "growl."

It has been an open secret for some time that in case of a showdown with Russia, American air bases would be set up in England. In fact, this was discussed with the British government through diplomatic channels some months ago, and it was agreed that England would make bases available to the United States in case of a European crisis.

Sending the two groups of B-29s is interpreted as the first step to establish bases which could be used in case the United States had to withdraw other air bases from German soil.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Traits That Mark 'Strong President'

THE expression "a strong president" is used in academic discussion of government not to indicate virtue, goodness or even success in the office.

It is used to distinguish those presidents who do not merely confine themselves to administration, but who use the office as a means of influencing Congress and public opinion generally. Cleveland, T. R., Wilson and F. D. R. were typically "strong presidents."

On the other hand, presidents like McKinley, Taft, Coolidge and Truman carefully keep within the literal constitutional limits of the office, avoid controversy, serve as a mediator with Congress and attend strictly to the vast routine of the chief executive.

Dewey will, if elected, certainly belong among the "strong" presidents. This is not to say that he will succeed or that he will be wise. Time alone will answer that question.

But he will vigorously exercise his great power, offer leadership to Congress, influence public opinion and, in Wilson's phrase, become a "national voice."

Dewey's administration of the district attorney's office revealed a tendency to innovate, to appeal to public opinion and to attack vigorously many vested interests which had been undisturbed through the administrations of many predecessors.

* * *

Considerable Difference.

AS GOVERNOR, Dewey has exhibited the same trait. It is true that he has since his candidacy in 1944 refrained from telling his party in Congress and in the country what to do.

For that restraint he has been criticized. But in New York he has unhesitatingly accepted leadership. He has, without offense, let people know who is governor. He has dominated his political captains and generals. He has tactfully moved his legislatures to pass many new and original pieces of legislation. He has put new blood and methods into his state departments.

And this has been in striking contrast to his predecessor, Herbert H. Lehman, who served 10 years in the office. Lehman was regarded as a good governor. He won three re-elections and retired with honors. But he was no innovator, as were Al Smith and F. D. R. before him He was not, in the sense described above, a "strong" governor.

When Truman entered the White House, he received a grant of good feeling from the public. Here, it was said, is a man who knows he is no superman. He will give us quiet good sense—and so forth.

Even Harding, among whose scanty stock of virtues was modesty, enjoyed a burst of good feeling. And when he died, he was passionately mourned.

Such public demonstrations for the average are always brief. The strong president endures. He may be attacked and reviled, and he may be defeated. But he is a factor in government and a maker of opinion.

The Constitution was written to accommodate a strong president. The rule, rather than the exception, will be the president who leads. Dewey will fit that prescription.

The South Rebels Again

By THOMAS L. STOKES

PHILADELPHIA—(This is a story that might be dropped overboard in a bottle to wash up on some of our southern or northern shores any time in the weeks or months hence and it may look just like one in any other bottles that might have been fished out of the sea in the last hundred years.)

It is written in a storm, not a storm at sea, but a storm on a convention floor.

Angry men and women are shouting, almost snarling, at each other over an issue that still isn't settled and bobs up every so often first to plague, then to break up for a time, one of our great political parties.

It is the great issue of human rights which rises eternally in one form or another.

State placards are bobbing angrily, too, like life preservers clutched frantically by men and women tossed into a raging sea from a sinking ship, and the simile seems apt, for there is something reminiscent of a sinking ship in this episode here.

By the time this dispatch gets to its destination the storm now raging before the eyes of this reporter will have long since passed. The Democratic party will have adopted its platform, the civil rights plank of which is the cause of this storm. It will have its candidates for president and vice president in Harry S. Truman and Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

Southerners will have hurled their last defiant rebel yell and a corps of workmen who live by their muscles honestly and not by their wits precariously like politicians will have cleaned away the debris, the posters, the campaign buttons.

The Republicans were here first before the Democrats, and the Henry Wallace third party comes next. The first and the last of these are not disturbed by the issue that is the cause of this storm here among the Democrats. Republicans settled it for themselves when Abraham Lincoln issued his emancipation proclamation on January 1, 1863, midway of the Civil war, and therefore they can give it lip service constantly, year after year, without objection. It is accepted, too, by the Henry Wallace party.

But Democrats are still tortured with it because of their southern wing even though, as a number of speakers here have pointed out, their party has accomplished much in the last sixteen years to break down racial and religious discriminations through the influence of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

* * *

Like Echo From Past.

BUT Harry S. Truman went the more politic Franklin D. Roosevelt one better. He spelled it all out in very specific terms and asked Congress, bluntly, to make it the law of the land. So he raised up for himself the storm that rages about him here.

As we watch the storm rises and then abates, and all in so short a time.

But the spectacle here is timeless, as timeless as the great fight for human rights. The scene is like something out of a history book, with only the costumes different.

It might have been a convention in that troubled decade before the Civil war when earnest men searched anxiously for compromise on an issue that won't be compromised. The same bitter words were said.

The Democratic party finally splintered off into three national conventions in 1860 and was not able to pull itself together for a long time afterward, for this is an issue that tears men apart so they can not work together in peace.

Again the southerners talk of another convention of their own—of going down to Birmingham.

Why don't they go to Montgomery where the Confederate States of America was created? The cycle would be complete.

Speaking of Your Health

If You Have Hay Fever

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A FEW sneezes and an itchy, watery nose for a couple of hours each day are not enough to send the ordinary person to the doctor. This is the reason, experts say, that so few people seek medical attention early.

Yet, these are the classic symptoms of a disorder which, though mild to start with, may and often does end with serious complications. It is known as allergic rhinitis or perennial hay fever, and is the most common form of allergy or oversensitivity affecting the breathing passages.

Mild Cases.

In mild cases of allergic rhinitis, there may only be occasional attacks of sneezing, when the patient comes in contact with something to which he is sensitive. Sneezing once or twice is not abnormal, but six or seven sneezes in a row mean that there is some allergy present.

In children with this disorder, the mother often mistakes the symptoms for colds. However, when the attacks are due to allergy or oversensitivity, there is no fever, and the attacks, as a rule, last only a short time.

Sinus Infection.

The more frequent the attacks of allergic rhinitis, the greater the likelihood that some complicating infection of the sinuses will occur. After the disorder has been present for a longer time, polyps, as a rule, will develop.

The treatment of allergic rhinitis consists, of course, in making efforts to find the substances to which the patient is sensitive and then keeping out of contact with them.

There are a number of preparations which may give temporary relief from the symptoms, such as epinephrine, ephedrin, amphetamine, benadryl and pyribenzamine. Of course, all such preparations must be used only under the directions of a physician.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Zooming Food Prices Disrupt Budgets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

FOOD PRICES — bugaboo of the housewife on a budget—probably will continue to soar despite prospects of a record corn crop and the second biggest wheat harvest in the nation's history.

In a single month, according to an AP survey in 15 key cities, meat prices have advanced 4 to 14 cents a pound, butter 3 to 6 cents a pound, and milk a penny a quart in many places.

The consumer's price index, covering food, clothing, rent, fuel, electricity and other household necessities, was at 171 on June 30, compared with the 1935-39 average. The index is 28 per cent higher than in June, 1946.

Bumper Corn Crop.

The agriculture department says the new record corn crop is expected to total 3,328,862,000 bushels, nearly 41,000,000 above the previous top crop of 1946. The 1947 corn yield was only 2,400,952,000 bushels.

The department's wheat forecast of 1,241,751,000 bushels is only 123,168,000 bushels below the record set in 1947.

The department expert disclosed that while this report is "one of the most encouraging signs in a long time, benefits in terms of meat and prices will be long range and not of any immediate benefit."

The housewife, he said, will not see any real easing of the tight pork supply until probably October of next year. In beef, she will get a better grade starting possibly in December and running through the summer of 1949.

At Home

Plan Slugging Campaign.

The Democratic national convention blueprinted this week the type of campaign that party spokesmen will wage this fall in an effort to avoid eviction from the White House.

The campaign plan, premiered in Philadelphia, is that it will be easier to run against the Republican record in Congress than against the Republican nominee for president.

Nominating Harry S. Truman as candidate for the presidency, with Senator Alben W Barkley as his running mate, became almost routine at the concluding Wednesday night convention session which extended well into Thursday morning.

There was tumult as delegates from several southern states voiced disapproval of Truman and the strengthened civil rights platform plan, but opposition to the President dwindled rapidly after recognition that General Eisenhower's refusal was final.

* * *

Built-In Radioactivity.

The Atomic Energy Commission is offering private industry chemictl compounds with built-in radioactivity.

These compounds, such as ethyl and wood alcohol, acetic acid, acetylene and various sodium salts, are tagged with radioactive Carbon-14. These compounds now are capable of emitting rays so that when used for research, medical or industrial, it will be possible to trace what happens to them in the course of an experiment.

For nearly two years, the commission has made available to researchers separate radioactive elements like Carbon 14 for use in experiments. But if researchers wanted to use these elements in other than their original form, they had to manufacture their own compounds—often at great expense.

* * *

Attracts Children.

In Hoboken, N. J., there's a bar with a children's hour.

The idea came to Parky Radigan, proprietor, one day after a television baseball game. When he turned up the lights, the dark corners were filled with youngsters who had sneaked in to watch.

Parky studied the television schedules and picked out some children's shows. His customers were startled at first when Parky closed the bar and called in children playing in the street.

When the show is over, the younger set departs. Then Parky re-opens his bar.

"These kids," he says, "don't get to see television. They're too young to drink."

For the older boys, Parky has an afternoon-a-week of baseball. Dry, of course.

* * *

Menace to Teen-Agers.

Infantile paralysis is tending to shift its attack from infants to teen-agers and adults, according to a worldwide survey reported to the First International Poliomyelitis Conference this week in New York.

In 1916, 3.7 per cent of the U.S. polio victims in cities were more than 15. Now more than 25 per cent are over 15.

The same trend has been noted abroad.

The conference took on added significance to Americans since North Carolina is experiencing its third worst outbreak of polio since records were established in 1918. The state board of health reported 485 cases up to last weekend.

Nuns In Public Schools.

Catholic nuns in North Dakota will don civilian dress this fall to conform with a new state law banning teachers in religious garb from public schools.

Bishop Vincent J. Ryan of Bismarck said this week the church has no objection to nuns donning respectable "secular dress" to comply with the new school law.

About 75 Catholic sisters teach in North Dakota's public schools, mostly in predominantly Catholic communities.

The law was approved at a June 29 primary election by a majority of 10,000 votes.

Abroad

Palestine Problem.

There was truce talk in the air this week as the Jewish-Arab clash in Palestine continued with renewed fury. The United Nations considered again advisability of imposing sanctions or international force, if necessary, against Jews and Arabs. Count Folke Bernadotte, the U.N. mediator, flew to Lake Success to plead before the Security Council that halting the war is the first essential.

The British were reported ready to join in strong U.N. action to halt Holy Land fighting. Previous Soviet-American moves for positive action had been blocked largely because of British opposition.

Whitehall was agreed, at least in principle, it was said, with an American proposal that the Security Council declare that a threat to peace exists under the meaning of Article 39 of the U.N. charter.

Planes Over Berlin.

The United States and Britain stepped up their air lift to Berlin this week. In addition to routing more cargo planes to Germany, the U.S. began expansion of the great Tempelhof airdrome.

American pilots carted a record 1,249 tons of food and supplies into Berlin with 240 planes while the British flew in almost as much with 204 the same day.

Muddle In Korea.

Korea is a 4,000-year-old country that for almost half a century fell under Japanese rule. With the end of World War II, 22 million exploited Koreans thought the time for their promised freedom had come but instead, they now live a queer hyphenated existence.

Both Russia and the United States stepped in after the war to guide Koreans toward freedom. Neither world power wanted the other to dominate the 85,000-square-mile peninsula and its industrial potential.

This week in divided Korea, two separate governments were proclaimed — each striving for eventual rule over the other.

Hawk-Owl and Weasel

By CALVIN A. BYERS

"I SAW something happen that will top your story of the horned owl that carried off the woodchuck," said a friendly editor who called the other Sunday.

"Helping shock wheat, I saw a hawk away up there." He closed one eye and pointed. "All at once it folded its wings and dived. It seemed to graze the ground, and pick up something squirming brown in its talons, then started up again, circling higher and higher until I could scarcely see it any more.

"Then it came down again, losing altitude slowly at first, then faster and faster until it finally landed in a field beyond a rise of ground. But awkwardly, as if something was wrong. I walked up the grade to where I could see what had happened.

"I finally made out a mound of feathers, and it didn't move. Wondering, I walked over to the place and the hawk-owl was dead. Blood was on the feathers of its neck, and when I looked closely a slit was there from which fresh blood oozed out.

"And then I saw what had happened. A young weasel was still clutched tight in the bird's talons, seemingly dazed by the fall, for the bird had landed on top of him. He had managed to grab the hawk by the throat, in midair, and keep hanging on until loss of blood forced the bird down. Before I could kill him, he saw me and streaked over the bare ground into the nearest shrubbery.

"My, what a tale that weasel can tell his grandchildren!"

* * *

THE weasel's action was instinctive. He is said to carry a large parasite in his stomach which keeps him ravenous and a wanton killer. No other small animal of the wild is so feared by small rodents, or ground nesting birds. Even woodchucks and muskrats are afraid of him, and he has been known to slit the throats of a whole henroost full of poultry in a night, sucking the blood, and not touching the flesh.

My brother and I caught one under the brooder house floor once. We tolled him out by using a young chick as bait. He came out fearlessly and when a shotgun blast finished him, the odor he made on the summer air was something awful.

Nix On Woman President

By ELSIE ROBINSON

SO HERE comes election year again—And that corny old question—Would you vote for a woman president?

I am a woman.

I think that women are fully as intelligent as men and in some cases far smarter.

I believe they have many virtues peculiar to their sex and some which men lack.

AND YET I WOULD NOT VOTE FOR A WOMAN PRESIDENT.

It takes more than a knowledge of politics to make a good president. It takes balance . . . concentration . . . craft . . . experience in teamwork . . . and above all, the ability to compromise.

If women have one outstanding fault it is their refusal to see both sides of a question. As a matter of fact there are scores of sides to any problem but the average woman sees only one and sticks by it come hell or high water.

She may be infinitely more tender than a man, more honest, more generous, more kindly and loyal, but when it comes to compromising, she is a complete flop. And no human being who has not learned the art of compromise is fit to rule a nation.

Hitler never learned how to compromise. Alexander and Caesar learned it only imperfectly, using force in its place. Woodrow Wilson's great record was marred by that weakness, and the whole female sex is cursed by its inability to compromise.

Do your remember Kipling's immortal line—

"The female of the species is more deadly than the male"?

Most of us think that that refers to feminine ruthlessness but it doesn't. It refers to the very fault we are talking about, the feminine inability to compromise, feminine stubbornness in sticking to one viewpoint.

That was why Kipling called woman deadly and that is why she is deadly. She cannot and she will not see the other fellow's viewpoint. She will work endless harm to those she loves rather than give up her own notions.

Some day the world will be different. Some day women will learn how to give way, how to be elastic and recognize the world's viewpoint. But it will be a long time yet and in the meantime I'll stick by men, dumb as they are.

Fading of Roosevelt Era Cuts Political Power of Union Bosses

PHILADELPHIA—Almost unnoticed amid the horror of the week which had wrought the utter dissolution of Roosevelt's Balkan empire, the boss unioneers were flat on the lot, and totally discredited. They couldn't agree on any Democrat and they had faltered and denied the little guy in the White House when an indorsement would have taken courage and might have done his morale and the ticket some good.

They had rejected Tom Dewey four years ago and ever since, and so he owed them nothing.

Now, for all their burly arrogance and their vulgar display of millions, the union bosses had come to the end of the Roosevelt Era and their own era without a political friend of any importance. Their clamor for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law has lost the power of a threat.

The contrast with the great campaign run by the unions of both the CIO and the AFL, as auxiliaries of Roosevelt's party in 1944, was equal to the decline of the party itself. In 1944, the political action committee of the CIO enjoyed an exaggerated reputation as a menace to the freedom of the ballot.

This sly concern had begun in offices in New York and it was first discovered or denounced in its underground work by the old Dies committee, which found telephone vouchers proving that C B. Baldwin, an inveterate bureaucrat, late of the farm security administration in the department of agriculture, had made calls to Henry Wallace, then vice president, and to Eleanor the Great, who was professing great disinterest in politics.

The PAC had money without limit and political connections reaching down into the local unions of the CIO, and the muddiest little office of farm security, far up the creek.

Any practical politician who affects to have been unimpressed by the work of the PAC is a liar.

With the help of the communists, under orders from the Kremlin, no doubt, the workers put together clear across the country, and particularly in the war plants, an organization as thorough as anything that Tammany, Ed Kelly or Tom Pendergast ever had.

Mr. Baldwin, known as Beanie, ran the show under the somewhat sinister genius of the late Sidney Hillman.

The PAC sent the poll books around to the factories and shipyards, and local partisans, with a joyous contempt for the citizen's right to abstain from voting, made many a one put his mark on the party line.

Now, like so many frightening things in our politics, like the Know Nothings and the Ku Klux, the PAC has practically disappeared. Jimmie Roosevelt appears to maintain some payroll connection with a California chapter, but the great show has lost its power. It never will revive.

Stage Makes Constant Demands On Those to Whom It Gives Fame

HERE'S STARDUST IN YOUR EYE!—Lionel Barrymore's quotable quote: "An actor must live his roles and love them. He must be another fellow. Ridicule must pass him by. If by any chance it grazes him, the actor must view it with pitying kindness. His last week's failure must be more than forgotten — it never happened. Above all, the actor must have no sense of humor. When he looks at himself in the mirror, he must do so through a telescope. And everything that he reads or sees or hears must be his. Let the most profound, the most classic line fall from his lips, he must be unconscious of the fact that he is not the author of it."

City Booms as Area Shopping Center

New Mail Plan Starts Smoothly

Few Complaints Reach Post Office

At least 13,000 residents got their mail yesterday under the new system of distribution used for the first time and were apparently well satisfied.

Acting Postmaster Ford said today that he has had surprisingly few calls from patrons reporting mistakes or requesting information.

However, carriers reported that some people still do not have their names on their boxes and that others have failed to move their boxes to the proper places.

The most difficulty encountered so far has been in distribution on the mounted route. This route is entirely new to both postal employes and the public. It is a part of the city delivery system, so city foot carriers have had to be assigned to the route. They are not yet familiar with either the streets or the patrons they serve.

BOXES LACK NAMES

Mail for the mounted route is distributed to cases in the post office according to the location of patrons' boxes. The failure of a few people to put their names on their boxes or to put their boxes in the proper place can throw the carrier completely off.

Therefore, Ford urges all residents on the mounted route to comply carefully with the regulations set up.

Some mail will be given to the wrong carrier, but these mistakes can soon be corrected, Ford said. There will be some delays due to the slowing down of distribution while employes become familiar with the new system.

Ford again reminded patrons that they can call the post office for information. Most of the detailed work is out of the way now, and postal employes have more time to answer questions.

Navy Offers 1-Year Plan

Mansfield area men who are 18 years old but have not reached their nineteenth birthday were offered a new Navy one-year enlistment program today.

The Mansfield U.S. Navy recruiting station has received authority to enlist a limited quota of 18-year-olds from the area for one year's service. The enlistees must pass the regular mental and physical qualifications for Navy enlistments.

After serving for one year, enlistees will receive their discharges but remain in the inactive Navy reserve.

Men who have 12 months active service in any military organization will be exempt from the present draft for men between 19 to 25. Men called in the draft must serve for 21 months before discharge.

1,658 Vets Get Bonus

Richland Checks Average $328

A total of 1,658 living veterans of World War II in Richland county have received their Ohio Compensation Fund bonus checks, Chester W. Goble, state bonus director, announced today.

Checks totaling $562,188 were mailed to Richland county veterans from April 28 through June 30, with checks to living veterans averaging $328.

Next of kin claims of deceased veterans totaled $169,476, with checks averaging $387.

Bonus checks mailed during the two-month period for the state totaled more than $46,000,000 and were mailed to more than 140,000 veterans and next of kin of deceased veterans in the state's 88 counties.

Mishap Costs Driver $210

Kelley Huntley, 35, R. D. 1, Mansfield, was fined a total of $210 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail on three separate charges in municipal court today following an accident last night at Trailer City. His driver's license was also suspended for one year.

Henry Carew, manager of the camp, said Huntley backed into a trailer owned by Floyd Knapp about 7 p. m. yesterday. Carew estimated damage to the trailer as $100.

Huntley pleaded guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge and was fined $10 and costs. He pleaded innocent to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol but was found guilty and fined $200 and costs and his driver's license suspended for one year.

One hundred dollars of the fine was suspended on condition the trailer be repaired.

On the third charge, operating a motor vehicle while under suspension of driving rights, Huntley was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail after he was found guilty by the court. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

9,500 Pre-Vacation Checks Top Million

Mansfield banks didn't have to be told that 9,500 Westinghouse and Mansfield Tire employes were starting a mass two weeks' vacation. They knew it by the volume of checks from these two companies that were cashed yesterday.

The vacation payroll for the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company was approximately $232,000 The Westinghouse Electric corporation payroll for the period that includes the vacation fortnight was reported to exceed one million dollars.

Officials of the Citizens National Bank and Trust company said yesterday was one of the heaviest days they had ever had for cashing checks. About 1,500 checks from the two companies alone were cashed for a total of between $75,000 and $100,000.

DOUBLE AVERAGE

The average number of checks from these companies cashed on pay day is about half that figure. Yesterday, however, many employes were cashing all three of their checks—one regular and one for each of the two vacation weeks.

At the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, lines of people waited at every window until the bank closed. More than 3,000 Westinghouse checks and 700 Mansfield Tire checks for a total exceeding $300,000 were cashed.

The bank cashed more than 10,000 checks altogether yesterday for a total of almost two million dollars.

MILLION DEPOSITED

Over a million dollars was deposited during the day, which made a turnover of nearly three million dollars. Although this was not a record day for the bank, the vacation checks helped to swell the total materially.

The Richland Trust company also reported a heavy day for cashing checks, but no figures were available on the number of vacation checks.

The Farmers Savings and Trust company, on the other hand, said it had cashed fewer checks than usual. Officials said their patrons are evidently waiting until they return from vacations to cash their checks.

Bank officials said they expect to continue cashing vacation checks today and Monday.

CITE CIVIC SERVICE

The dissenting opinion of Commissioners Jones and Sterling continues:

"Moreover, we fail to find any mention in the conclusions of the majority decision with respect to the clearly-established affirmative qualifications of the Mansfield Journal company, and the Lorain Journal company to operate the stations proposed in their present applications.

"We think it but fair that it should be stated that this record discloses that the Mansfield Journal company has conducted campaigns in the interests of the residents of Mansfield; has promoted worthwhile charity drives; has required its employes to reside in Mansfield; and generally has taken a very active part in the city's affairs.

"Similar findings can be made on this record with respect to the Lorain Journal company and the activities in which it has taken part in the community life of Lorain.

"The record further shows that both companies propose entirely meritorious program services designed to meet the needs of the residents of the areas which they propose to serve"

The two newspapers have been sharply critical of the practices of the Federal Communications commission, vigorously opposed the granting of five licenses to Toledo Lawyer Edward Lamb and played a part in disclosures which brought on authorization of an investigation of FCC by Congress The investigation already is under way

The papers have appealed the 3-2 decision of the FCC to the U. S. court of appeals for the District of Columbia.

BALL COULDN'T HELP IT—

A young fellow by name of Charley Stine writes a column about golf for the News-Journal. Friday evening, Charley, playing in a N-J golf league, proceeded to demonstrate some of the facts of the game to J. C. Jolliff, linotype operator, Charley won the first hole, then the second and the third and the fourth and on the fifth was in a trap beside the green in two. Then Charley found out how little an "expert" can know about the game. He holed out in "9" and promptly proceeded to lose the next four holes in a row to lose the match one down. Who go the blame? Not Charley. As he failed to hole out on the ninth green, he smacked the innocent little ball 50 yards away from the green and firmly refused to accept it when a fellow golfer recovered it.

Tax Total Increases Sharply

Receipts Among Ohio's Largest

Mansfield's increasing importance as the shopping center for a rich north central Ohio territory received renewed emphasis today in State Treasurer Don H. Ebright's report of sales tax receipts for the first six months of 1948.

Ebright released figures showing Richland county's increase in sales tax receipts for the period ended June 30 was the fourth largest among 14 counties in which the six-month total exceeded $800,000.

And the five counties which Mansfield serves as a retail trading center also showed sharp increases.

Richland county's total sales tax receipts' for the six months was reported as $802,785.50, an incease of 20.9 per cent from the collection of $663,812.24 for the first six months of 1947.

ASHLAND UP 21 PER CENT

Ashland county's six months total was $231,500.60, up 21 per cent from 1947's total of $191,269.78. Crawford county's $270,046.64 total was up 18.4 per cent from 1947's $227,902.19. Huron's total of $270,012.50 was a gain of 15.1 per cent from 1947's $234,396.80, Knox county's $221,894.24 a 22.4 per cent gain from 1947's $181,165.50, and Morrow county's $45,570.66 an increase of 24.2 per cent from 1947's figure of $36,673.22.

For the state as a whole, the six-month increase fell somewhat below the Richland county figure. Ebright reported six months tax receipts for the 88 counties as $62,561,092.75, an increase of 18.2 per cent from last year's six month total of $52,928,142.28.

Only counties with more than $800,000 for the six months to show a greater percentage increase than Richland were Butler with 29.2 per cent gain, Clark with 21.1 and Lorain with 24.6. All are highly industrial communities.

Of the big counties, Franklin county (Columbus) set the pace with a 20 per cent increase, compared with a 17.6 per cent gain for Hamilton county (Cincinnati) and 14.9 per cent for Cuyahoga (Cleveland).

Charge Filed In Shooting

An affidavit, charging shooting with intent to wound, was filed today in municipal court against Charles Fletcher, 42, of Crystal Springs street.

The affidavit was signed by Mrs. Maebell Carpenter, of 94 Louis street, who named Fletcher as the man who fired several shots at her while she was standing on the back porch of her home about 10 p. m. Thursday.

One of the bullets struck Mrs. Carpenter in the left thigh, grazing her right thigh. Sheriff's deputies who investigated said Fletcher's wife, Nellie, was pursued into the Carpenter house by Fletcher after an argument.

Mrs. Carpenter went out on the back porch as the shots were fired from an alley about 50 feet away. Fletcher continued today to deny he fired the shots, deputies said.

Deputies believe that the wrong woman was shot.

A 26-year-old Louis street man, who deputies said was with Fletcher before and after the shooting, was held in jail. He is also being investigated in connection with the cutting of Dude Petty, 47, of 21 Louis street, a week ago.

Mrs. Carpenter's condition is "fair," the hospital reported.

Auto Stolen

Ernest Conley, R. D. 2, Mansfield, told police last night his automobile, valued at $425, was stolen from its parking place in the Westinghouse parking lot, Wayne and Fourth streets. Conley said the car was taken sometime between 6:25 and 11 p. m.

Vets Learn Housing Secrets At YMCA-Sponsored School

Mansfielders faced with problems in the buying and building of their own homes soon will be able to attend classes on home selection and construction.

A group of young men has been meeting in the YMCA for informal discussions of the present housing conditions.

The group included L. J. Bennett, 275 West First street; R. B Tandy, 68 Sherman street, J. L. Artley, 543 West Park avenue, James H Woltston, 215 Richland avenue, Robert Bonham, 251 Glessner avenue, and Maurice W. Taylor, 562 Garfield place

The group will meet each Tuesday at 8 p m. in the YMCA and urge other Mansfield veterans, non-veterans married couples and single persons to join them in housing discussion

EXPECTS TO ATTEND

Housing experts who will attend the meetings and assist the group will offer instruction in such subjects as architecture, real estate, civil engineering, federal housing administration, veterans administration, financing, construction, legal aspects and representatives from the labor building trades.

The group expects to gather more "students" for the "housing school" with each meeting. They will learn of the benefits and values of the different types of construction, including the current pre-fabricated and conventional construction styles.

They will discuss the types of construction, site selection, building and purchase cost, housing and zoning restrictions, and material supplies.

They will consider and study the housing programs sponsored by veterans organizations, including Amvets, American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Veterans committee.

When the housing forum's series of meetings is completed members of the group will know what they want in a home, what to look for and an approximate estimate of what the cost for building or purchasing should be.

Hager Bows Out In Ohio 'Am' Semi-Finals

FAIR OR FOUL

by LAWTON CARVER

International News Service

NEW YORK—(INS)—For the first time since 1932 the New York Giants finally have a manager who is gaited to run the club in the pattern set for it by John McGraw. Leo Durocher is by every thought and gesture a Broadway wise guy. So was McGraw.

When Bill Terry was handpicked by McGraw as his successor in the 1932 season the Giants came up with a cold, shrewd fellow who never quite fitted the scene.

Terry was a great ball player, but scarcely the New York type and in due course he wound up back in his native Memphis, Tenn., to be succeeded by Mel Ott, of Gretna, La.

Ott took over in 1942 and never made the grade either. Terry won pennants with players left to him by McGraw, but once they were used up didn't know how to rebuild. Ott never came close to a pennant and despite his tenure with the Giants from the age of 16 never seemed to fit in as pilot.

★

THEY HAVE a guy now who is moulded in the McGraw mould. Durocher is hated among ball players as much as McGraw ever was, and is as tough and merciless as McGrew at his worst. He fitted Brooklyn like a used glove while Larry MacPhail had the club, but the wonder of it all is that he lasted this long with Branch Rickey.

It was no secret that Rickey would have thrown Durocher out on his ear long ago but for the fact that when MacPhail departed the scene Durocher was a winning manager and beloved by the Brooklynites.

Rickey simply couldn't fire him. The most he could do was to exact from Durocher a promise in the presence of the press that he would mend his ways when Rickey took over the club.

Rickey and his new-old manager, Burt Shotton, are gaited the same and have been friends and associated for more years than either cares to remember.

Shotton is middle-aged, bespectacled, kindly, and without flash.

★

DUROCHER is the poised man of the Hollywood and Broadway spots with a fashion plate suit for cocktails and a snarl and epithet for umpire, and rival players.

Ott? He is one of the great characters in baseball history. He is popular and almost revered by some for his genuine strength and for his great earnestness and honesty, coupled with his ability as a ball player.

Durocher was a fine fielder but never a great player because he couldn't hit and he really got by mainly on his brashness and a flaming competitive spirit.

But Durocher has been a successful manager on that same brashness and fighting. Ott was a failure because he sought to be the gentleman at all times. He couldn't produce.

Hagerty Shoots 37 For Lead In Westbrook Loop

Owen Hagerty shot a 37 and Bob Moorhead and Bill Black a pair of 38's to lead the Westbrook Country club league yesterday. Pete Linster was one stroke behind with 39.

League-leading Pine Valley won three of four matches.

Farm Tools 9 Enters Meet

Farm Tools today became the first Mansfield team to enter the district softball tournament, according to tournament manager Ted Baker of Bucyrus.

Baker announced that he would accept entries of Mansfield teams by phone, either at his home, Bucyrus 4167 or business office, 5139. Deadline for entry in the tournament is Monday noon.

Although Gorman-Rupp, last year's tournament runnersup are expected to get in the joust, Baker said that he had received no word from them as yet. Other teams in the city are apparently ignoring the tourney.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting—Bob Dillinger, Browns—Drove five runs on bases loaded triple and ee singles to lead St. Louis to 10-4 tory over New York

Ex-Champ Eliminates Al, 2 and 1

Al Hager was back at his home here today with a set of silver to show for his ranking as one of top four amateur golfers in Ohio.

The 24-year-old former Marine corporal bowed out of the Ohio Amateur tournament yesterday, losing to Maurice McCarthy, 2 and 1, in semi-final play. He had beaten Tony Ruddy of Toledo, one-up, in the morning quarter-finals.

McCarthy and Hager were all even from tee to green yesterday but the Mansfield star missed a couple two and three foot putts to make the difference.

GOES TWO UP

Hager started out the round with a birdie to go one up on the former champ and added another when McCarthy bogied the third hole. Two straight birds by McCarthy evened the match up and he pulled away when Al bogied the seventh and ninth holes.

Hager pulled within one hole of a tie when McCarthy bogied the eleventh but dropped back by shooting a six on No. 12. Hager played par golf the rest of the way, but McCarthy stuck with him to end the match on the 17th hole.

Youth and stamina arrayed themselves against age and experience today in the 36-hole finals.

On one side was 27-year-old Harold Paddock of Cleveland, former army air force lieutenant in the Pacific, who is making his first serious bid for this title—although he recently reached the semi-finals of the western amateur, and led the Cleveland district qualifier for the national open.

Against him is McCarthy, 41-year old Cincinnati veteran of the golfing crusades, making his sixth apparance in the title match. Three times he has won the diadem, and twice he has been defeated—each time in extra holes. He won the national inter-collegiate crown in 1928 and the New York metropolitan title the next two years. In the 1927 national amateur he had Bobby Jones two down with four to play, but lost.

FLIES TO MEETS

McCarthy, executive of a copper wire company, has four children and generally flies his own plane to and from the tournament scene in an effort to save time for business.

Paddock, son of a Cleveland golf course operator, has no children but expects one within a week.

Paddock was an easy winner, 5 and 4, over Paul Schurtz of Columbus in the quarter-finals, and came back with a surprising 2 and 1 victory over Allan Whaling, former army captain from Cincinnati, in the semi-finals.

The semi-final cards:

The Farm Tools-Ashland American Legion game scheduled yesterday at Farm Tools diamond was postponed because of wet grounds. Farm Tools will be host to the Ashland Police at 6 p. m. Monday.

OTT CONGRATULATES DUROCHER—Mel Ott (center), who resigned as manager of the New York Giants, shakes hands with Leo Durocher, former Brooklyn Dodgers manager, at New York yesterday. VFW Blanks AVC, 11 to 0; Curry Gets 5 Tappan Hits

Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion Post 16 and Tappan Stove won Class A softball games last night.

The VFW aggregation preserved its Club league lead with an 11-to-0 victory over American Veterans Committee as Ronnie Hunt pitched a clever two-hitter. Hunt struck out 10 and did not issue a free ticket to first. Gerald Miner, VFW, hit a home run.

In the other Club loop conflicts, the Legion outfit won a close decision over the Amvets, 4 to 2. Both teams garnered five hits.

With George Curry lashing out five base hits, Tappan Stove took a postponed tilt from Mansfield Plumbing, 13 to 2. The Stove nine is in second place in the Industrial league.

Curry collected a home run, double and three singles and Mervin DeLong clouted a homer to lead the Tappan attack.

Gorman-Rupp Goes Twelve To Win, 2 to 1

Gorman-Rupp was carried 12 innings last night to defeat the Ryder Manufacturing company of Lakewood by a 2-1 score.

The game was one of the best played here this year as the locals spotted Lakewood a run in the second inning, tied it up in the eighth and then played three extra frames before winning. The contest was booked to go nine innings.

Gorman-Rupp collected six hits, including two by Wayne Hough and Bud McKee but was unable to bunch them until the final inning.

M'KEE HERO

Kenny Windsor led off the last of the twelfth with a single. Pete Campbell sacrificed him to second but Windsor stopped at third on Hough's one-base blow. Nick Weber was given an intentional pass to load the bases and young McKee became the hero with a line single which brought in the winning tally.

Gorman-Rupp's next game will be a North Central Ohio Inter-City league tilt with Marion here Monday.

Shelby Blues Blast Attica

SHELBY — With Herb Hart pitching six-hit ball, the Shelby Blues trounced Attica, 9-2, in a game played here yesterday.

The Blues scored four times in the first inning and then coasted to victory. Attica was kept away from the plate until the final inning when they pushed over both their tallies.

Bob Perman, Clark and George Zeiters led the Shelby ten-hit attack. Perman belted a double and single while Clark and Zeiters hit triples.

Shotton Makes Successful Debut

(By Associated Press)

Burt Shotton who came out of nowhere to lead the Brooklyn Dodgers to the 1947 National league pennant got off to a good start in his 1948 debut.

Shotton managed the Dodgers to a 4-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday after assuming command in the greatest managerial shakeup in baseball history.

The soft-spoken Shotton replaced Lippy Leo Durocher at the Dodger helm with the flamboyant Durocher moving across the river to take over the helm of the New York Giants. Durocher replaced Mel Ott who resigned. Ott will remain in the Giant organization probably as an aid to Carl Hubbell, Giant farm director.

In the other managerial change, Allen (Dusty) Cooke was named temporary manager of the Philadelphia Phillies replacing Ben Chapman.

Cooke, however didn't fare as well as Shotton as the Cardinals thumped the Phils, 8-2 in a night game at St. Louis.

Durocher's debut was delayed until today as the Giants' scheduled night game with the Pirates in Pittsburgh was postponed because of rain.

For a while it appeared the Dodgers would lose as Grady Hatton belted a two-run homer in the first inning off Joe Hatten to give Ewell Blackwell a working margin.

Blackwell blanked the Dodgers on one hit going into the seventh inning when the Brooks finally scored a run.

The Dodgers drove Blackwell to cover in the eighth and won the game with a three-run rally.

Cooke's Phils were in the game with the Cards for five innings. Leading, 3-2, going into the sixth, the Cards broke the game wide open, scoring four runs. Three of them came on a double by relief pitcher Ted Wilks.

Meanwhile, the league-leading Boston Braves moved six-and-one-half games ahead of the Pirates by taking a wild 12-10 decision from the Cubs in a day encounter at Chicago.

In the American league, the runner-up Philadelphia Athletics trounced the front-running Cleveland Indians, 10-5 in a night game at Philadelphia to shave the Indians' margin to one-and-one-half games.

The triumph enabled the A's to move two games ahead of the third place New York Yankees who were upset, 10-4 by the St. Louis Browns at the Yankee Stadium.

The rising Boston Red Sox downed the Detroit Tigers, 5-3, in Boston to move to within two-and-one-half games of the Yanks.

In a night game at Washington, the last place Chicago White Sox edged the Senators, 3-2.

Lippy Leo Durocher Faces His Toughest Assignment; Dusty Cooke Replaces Ben Chapman at Philadelphia

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Berated and disowned by the Brooklyn fans who once toasted him, Lippy Leo Durocher faced the toughest battle of his stormy career today as manager of the New York Giants, a team he has hated professionally since the day he first planted his spiked shoes on big league turf.

Durocher, who succeeded Mel Ott as manager of the Giants, was on the spot to a much greater degree than Burt Shotton, who succeeded him as Brooklyn pilot, or than Allen (Dusty) Cooke, who replaced Ben Chapman as manager of the Phils in the greatest single day shakeup in big league history.

For the cannon-mouthed husband of beauteous film Actress Laraine Day can't expect immediately to convert either the fans or the players in the Giant ranks. He "rode" the Giants for years, not only as Dodger manager, but in the days when he was a shortstop with the Cincinnati Reds, the St. Louis Cardinals, and the Dodgers.

It is Leo's creed to hate his opponents and he expects the same treatment from them. So it will be no easy chore to alter the sentiments and if the Giants get off to a bad start with Durocher at the helm he'll never hear the last of it.

And he inherited a dispirited club, poverty stricken for pitching strength, a club with power that likes to blast the ball for extra bases rather than to gamble for a single big winning inning as does Durocher.

"I want to get a little life in the club," said Durocher in Pittsburgh where he flew yesterday to take charge of the Giants in the middle of a series against the Pirates. "Maybe we'll make a few changes that might provide the spark we need."

Shotton, the 63-year-old veteran of baseball wars, comes back to the club he directed to the 1947 pennant a time when it is at the peak of its 1948 efficiency. When the Dodgers defeated the Reds 4 to 3 yesterday as he sat on the bench getting acclimated to his chores again, it marked their 10th victory in their last 12 starts.

If Shotton can keep the Dodgers up in the race, he will once more be the toast of Brooklyn. If not, well, the fans will regard him with tolerance, figuring that the replacement of Durocher came too late.

Regarding the mysterious ousting of likable Ben Chapman by the Phillies, it was indicated that the front office was disappointed in the club's poor showing after a fine early season start, even though most experts had it tabbed as of lower second division caliber. It was no secret that President Bob Carpenter, jr., the 32-year-old heir to Dupont millions and the youngest top executive in the majors, had expected more of the club's young talent, the bonus players for which thousands of dollars had been paid out. That the team couldn't make the first division despite the gaudy expenditure, made Chapman the scapegoat.

The Phils made it plain that Cooke, former Yankee team mate of Chapman and his long-standing personal pal, had been retained as manager only on a temporary basis. Should the club hit a winning stride under him, however, he might be given a contract for next year.

Herman Colts Rap Zitzer's In Major Loop

The much-awaited game for the lead of the Hot Stove Major league turned into a rout for Sons of Herman Colts yesterday as they pasted Zitzer's, 11-4, on the Ontario diamond.

Jim Meeting scattered nine Zitzer's hits while Ross Frisbee and Shelly Swank had considerable trouble with the Colts, who scored in every inning. Meeting himself led the attack with two doubles and a single in three times at bat.

FOURTH STRAIGHT

The victory was the fourth against no defeats for Sons of Herman while Zitzer's dropped to third place with two wins and one loss. Ohio Sport Center jumped to second with a forfeit win over Yuncker's. Sport Center has three wins and one loss.

In a Junior league game, the Police scored seven times in the first inning and then held on to defeat the Exchange club, 10-9. Odd Fellows and Carpenter Busses battled to a 3-3 deadlock in the other game. Each team got four hits.

Carpenter and Woodland won Elementary games. Carpenter blasted West Fifth, 17-7, and Woodland swamped Bushnell, 27-7.

Bob Feller Does It Again; Fails to Last First Inning

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Bob Feller used to be called the fireball king, the Cleveland ace, or the greatest right-hander in baseball.

But they reserve those superlatives for other hurlers today, and never was the reason more apparent.

In a normal season, all Feller had to do to whip the Philadelphia A's was to toss his glove onto the field. He lasted less than an inning last night as the A's pounded out a 10-5 victory to cut Cleveland's American league lead to a game and a half.

Feller faced six men, retired but one, and was charged with five runs. That was all for Feller.

ERRORS HURT

At that, he might have got out of the first with only three runs charged against him, but an error by Joe Gordon, and a couple of fielding blunders by Feller himself and Ken Keltner added to his woes.

Feller's season record now stands at nine won and 11 lost, and unless a miracle happens, the not-so-rapid Robert is headed for his worst year in the majors.

The A's didn't stop their pounding when Feller left the mound, and it was a good thing for them. They got three more off Bob Muncrief in the second and added one in each the fourth and fifth frames to sew up the win.

Another error in the second counted for two of the A's runs.

The score was 9-1 before the Tribesmen finally went to work.

They got back one run in the first and added four more in the sixth.

GETS FIRST RUN

Allie Clark scored Cleveland's first run. He singled and rounded the bases on Manager Lou Boudreau's double.

Clark started things again in the sixth. Once more he singled, and took second on Boudreau's one-baser. Gordon singled home Clark, and Gordon and Boudreau scored ahead of Keltner when the third-sacker blasted his 22nd home run of the season into the left-field stands.

The Indians had men on base in each of the last three innings, but failed to capitalize on their scoring opportunities.

Sam Zoldak was to hurl for Cleveland today against the A's. Joe Coleman was to be Connie Mack's choice.

Visiting Pastors to Fill Five Pulpits In Mansfield Sunday

Church Set To Vote on Pastor Call

Pennsylvania Preacher Under Consideration

It's vacation time for Mansfield pastors and the pulpits will be filled in at least five churches tomorrow by out-of-town speakers, lay readers or associate pastors.

At the First United Presbyterian church, Dr. Andrew S. Creswell, pastor of the Oakland avenue United Presbyterian church of Pontiac, Mich., will bring the morning message.

The pastor, Rev. Charles L. Shook, while not out of the city, will not be at his own church. He will speak at the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church, and will moderate a congregational meeting immediately following the morning service.

At that meeting the congregation will vote its expression on a call to Rev. Edward Welsh of Middelsex, Pa., who preached at the church several weeks ago. If the expression is favorable a call will be extended to Rev. Welsh, Earl Briggs, president of the church council, said today.

MICHIGAN PASTOR

At the First Church of God, 265 West Third street, Rev. Wilbur Kirby of Belding, Mich., will preach both morning and evening. Rev. Kirby with his wife and daughter will be guests of the church for tomorrow's worship.

Rev. George Constance, Mansfield native, will talk at all services at the Grace Gospel church tomorrow. Rev. Constance and Mrs. Constance returned recently from Colombia, South America, where they served as missionaries. Rev. Constance will preach in the absence of the pastor, Rev. James E. Davey, who with his family, is vacationing in New England.

Robert Schrack, young ministerial student at the University of Virginia, will act as lay reader for the second Sunday at the Grace Episcopal church in the absence of the rector, Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, who is taking a six weeks summer course at Yale university.

Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, associate pastor, will continue to preach at the First Lutheran church, filling the pulpit while Rev. Carveth P Mitchell is vacationing with his family in the South.

College-Age Group Meets

A college-age group, organized recently at the First Congregational church, held its second meeting Thursday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Knox.

The 15 members of the group enjoyed an outdoor picnic at the Knox home, then adjourned to the parish house, Park avenue west, where they were entertained with games during the remainder of the evening.

The committee in charge included Allen Sanford, Sally Riblett, Virginia Lamee, Richard and Anne Parsons. Rev and Mrs. Madden are sponsoring advisers.

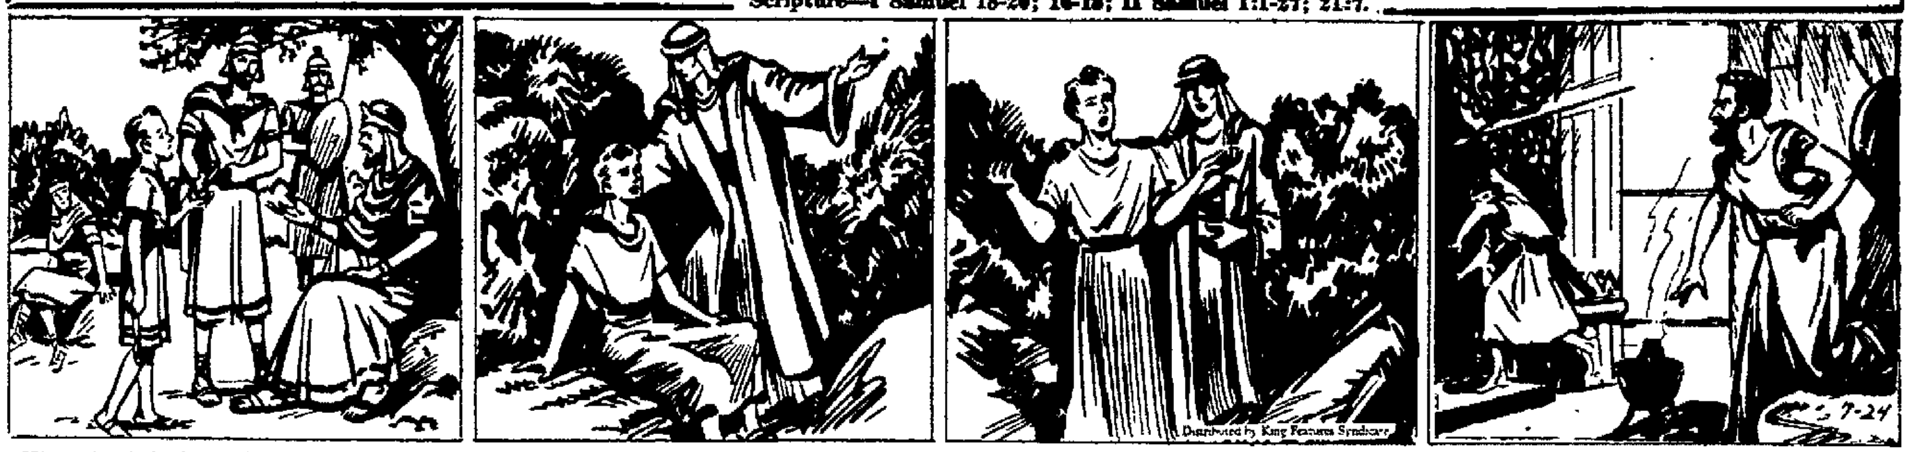
"We started the group with the idea of keeping this age of young people together during the summer months," Mrs Madden said. "We will meet frequently during the summer, then after college starts in the fall, those who remain here will meet once each month and will hold special parties during the holidays for the members who have been away to school."

On Aug. 8, members expect to have early devotions at the parish house, then go to the lakes for a day's outing On Sept. 13, a farewell party will be given for those who plan to go away to school

Jonathan, Loyal Friend

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON · By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—I Samuel 18-20; 16-18; II Samuel 1:1-27; 21:7.



Distributed by King Features Syndicate
7-24

King Saul had David, who had slain Goliath, brought before him and asked him his name. David told him he was the son of Jesse, and Jonathan, Saul's son, seeing David, loved him.

Saul grew jealous of David because of his popularity and wanted to have him killed, but Jonathan, his friend, told David to hide until he found out how his father, Saul, felt toward David.

For a time Saul's anger at David was quieted, but again he tried to kill him, and David was forced to flee. Jonathan found him and David asked, "What have I done? What is mine iniquity?"

Not seeing David at meat, Saul asked Jonathan where he was, and when Jonathan made excuses for him. Saul threw his javelin at Jonathan

Hoover's Life Told In New Publication

A non-fiction book particularly appropriate to an election year will be placed in circulation Monday by the Public library.

OUR UNKNOWN EX-PRESIDENT, by Eugene Lyons, is a portrait of Herbert Hoover, the village blacksmith's son who grew up to serve his country and the world as mining engineer, relief administrator, President, and statesman. The emphasis is on the personal, not the political aspects of Hoover's exciting career.

TALES OUT OF SCHOOL by John J. Espey concerns the activities of the author in his boyhood in China. Son of a Presbyterian missionary, he spent many summers with his family at Kuling, a summer resort in the mountains above the Yangtze river port of Kuikiang. With charming irony, he recalls the people who share his experiences there.

INTRODUCTION TO IRAN by Elgin Croseclose is a timely survey of the forces in Iran that tend toward national disintegration, and of those elements of national vitality which keep the nation alive and independant. For twenty-five years, the author has been associated with Iran, and he presents here information not accessible elsewhere

Other non fiction: PECULARITIES OF THE PRESIDENTS, by Smith; INSECT GUIDE, by Swain; POPULAR PLAYS FOR AMATEURS, by Davis, CAR OWNER'S GUIDE TO CARE AND REPAIR, by Altschuler; PSYCHOLOGY OF CHRISTIAN PERSONALITY, by Ligon; THE LABOR LEADER, by Ginzberg; PATTERNS FROM NATURE, by Horst.

SOUTH SEA MYSTERY

GULF OF TIME, by Digby George Gerahty, portrays the mystery of the lands of the South Seas and the effect of "civilization" on the natives, cut off from the rest of the world by a "gulf of time." When Jim Rankin found gold in a remote section of New Guinea, he tried to keep it secret, to protect the natives, who still live in the stone age. But the secret leaked out, and the struggle began.

ANOTHER YEAR, by Robert Sherriff is the story of the Vicar, who had vowed to leave his pleasant charge at Little Stanton, and take a difficult parrish, in the London slums. It was indeed difficult, from the time of his first encounter with the people of his new parish, but the climax, though it leaves the Vicar financially ruined, leaves him spiritually triumphant.

HOME TO THE HERMITAGE is a novel of Andrew and Rachel Jackson Set against the drama of Jackson's public life the novel reaches its climax in his election as President.

SING HERE NEXT WEEK—This quartet from William Jennings Bryan university, Dayton, Tenn., touring the northern states this summer, will stop in Mansfield next week. The men are (left to right) Don Thornton, William Breckville, Robert Davis and Robert Smith. They are accompanied on the tour by Dean Norman Uphouse, of the university, who will speak at the meetings. The quartet will be at the Grace Brethren church Wednesday at 8 p. m. and at the Mansfield Gospel Center, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. On Aug. 3, they will return to sing at the Tenth Street Brethren church in Ashland. The services are open to the public.

50-Years-Wedding Couples To Be Honored By Church

Fifty years of married life for all members of the First Congregational church who have observed their golden wedding anniversaries and for all parents of members who have been married 50 years, will be commemorated with a special service tomorrow morning at the First Congregational church.

Rev. Matthew G. Madden will reserve a section of the church for the honored guests. In their recognition, he will preach on the subject, "Through the Years." The girls' ensemble, led by Mrs. W. J. Hazeltine will sing Vincent Youmans' "Through the Years" and "I Love Thee" by Grieg.

Mrs. Albert Twitchell, organist, will play as a prelude, "Golden Wedding" by Gabriel-Marie.

A number of the guests will come to Mansfield from out of town for the occasion.

Horoscope

For Sunday, July 18.

Sunday's horoscope holds augury of very interesting and eventful activities, possibly in relation to the serious conventional activities of the day, although joyously illuminated by social, cultural and sentimental functions, in which there may be outstanding highlights of more than customary festivity and celebration. Engagements, marriages or kindred family occasions may prove of exceptional delight to elders. Such felicitous conditions should not be marred by strife or indiscretions.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year of conflicting and contradictory situations, taxing their capacity for restraint, ingenuity and sagacity. There may be sudden developments coming up for calm, deliberate and wisely manipulated action, possibly outside orthodox lines or erratic impulses. Promises and obligations may be defaulted, but shrewd and calculated management may bring exceptional success. Refrain from strife and any form of rash or vindictive behavior in home or business affairs.

A child born on this day may possess many diverse and conflicting traits and inclinations, but may eventually become steady, dependable and definitely successful, perhaps in an unusual line.

'Employe' Redefined

Until definite rulings are available on the Gearhart resolution which redefines the term "employe" in the Social Security Act, no changes will be made by the Mansfield social security office in handling coverage matters, Edward P. Blonston, manager, said today.

All persons who engage in doubtful occupations, such as commission salesmen and taxi drivers, will be affected by the change in definition. Each new case will have to be examined and judged on its own merits.

Discussions now being held between the Social Security Administration and the U. S. Treasury department are expected to clear up questions about the new law.

The Gearhart resolution applies common-law tests to rulings on employer - employe relationships for social security purposes.

Blonston said that it is known that the bureau of internal revenue does not expect to change its former tax rulings defining employes. The position of the treasury department is that anyone who has been held an employe in previous rulings probably will continue to be if he remains in the same type of work.

Russia Needs More Houses

YELLOW SPRINGS—(AP)—The housing shortage is the biggest domestic problem facing Russia, the fifth annual Institute on International Relations was told.

Valery J. Tereshtenko, who spent 15 months in the Soviet Union as a chief supply officer for a UNRRA mission, said 60 to 75 per cent of Russia's major cities was destroyed in World War Two and her building industry wrecked.

"Not only is any building halted," he said, "but a housing rehabilitation program is impossible without first reconstructing the heavy industries."
